HOPKINS'S CANDIDACY BORN OF YATES'S FACTS IN ONLY.

Its Announcement at This Time Is Intended to Stem, if Possible, the Dawes-Cullom Wave That Is Sweeping Illinois—To Stand as the Governor's Candidate Believed to Be Political Suicide—Repudiated by the Rank and File of His Party, the Governor Wields Little Influence Outside of His Own Appointees.

INTERNAL DISSENSIONS WRECKING YATES'S OFFICIAL FAMILY.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 12.—The formal announcement of the candidacy of Congressman Hopkins for United States Senator is no surprise to politicians of Southern and Central Illinois. It was foreseen in the Republic during the State fair early in October.

It was stated then that as a result of a conference with Governor Yates in the executive mansion, Mr. Hopkins would attempt to check the progress of the Dawes wave that was sweeping Republicans off their moorings in every county in the State. So this formal announcement of Mr. Hopkins creates no sensation, and the only surprising feature accompanying it is the lack of confidence displayed by the candidate in not resigning aspirations for a re-election to Congress from his district, as demanded by Will County. This is worth a paragraph of explanation, but more important and somewhat sensational events have lately occurred in the official family of the Governor, and these claim immediate attention.

May Disrupt Canal Board.

In the first place the Governor's Canal Board is in serious danger of disruption, and all on account of an alien Governor. Yates, being only 41 years old yesterday, he cannot place his finger on the State party. His only brother, Henry, has the best paying job in the service—Superintendent of Insurance. He is blessed with a plentiful supply of cousins, however, and it is fair to presume that many of them have a job. He imported one by the name of Charles Miller from Nebraska, planted him in LaSalle County, and made him Canal Commissioner. It is a man of steady job, paying about $150 a year and expenses. These expenses, by the way, are quite an object.

By virtue of his relationship to the Governor, "Cousin" Charles has assumed the task of running the canal. Howard M. Shapp of Joliet, attorney for the Canal Board, at a fair remuneration I hope, is nervous over the assumption of authority by Mr. Miller. He is an able lawyer, chairman of the Will County Republican committee, and a man of standing and influence. He was Tanner's lawyer for legal services, and he was so large as to cause adverse comment even from the well-to-do members of the Tanner administration. Recently Mr. Shapp addressed a firm and courteous note to Governor Yates. I do not know the substance of the note, but the substance ran something like this:

Attorney Shapp's Ultimatum. Joliet, Ill.—Dear Governor: The Board of Canal Commissioners of Illinois and Michigan Canal will have to discontinue the services of Canal Commissioner Miller, and I am, Sir, Yours truly, HOWARD M. SHAPP.

This is a delicate position in which to place the Governor. It would be a crime against the blood to ask for "Cousin Charles" resignation, and to surrender the cords that bind Shapp to the State administration would snap the fragile cord that permits Governor Yates to claim Will County and its large Republican legislative votes and its mighty delegation in the United States Congress. The Governor's position is a delicate one, and it is a moral as well as a family obligation to take care of him.

Yates's cannyness which born of the dilemma Governor Yates will grasp. It is possible that "Cousin" Charles may be removed from the Canal Board, but there is no such likelihood. Shapp is a man of standing and influence, and there is a strong opinion that he has been kept in the Governor's confidence.

This Shapp-Miller difficulty is up to the Governor. There is a broad suspicion that Mr. Shapp does not care to be attached to the Governor's administration, and the first decent opportunity to divorce himself from a ship that never had a captain or pilot recognized by the crew.

Trouble in Governor's Cabinet.

Another circumstance that is disposed to cause the Governor of Illinois to wish the spark of ambition would depart from him is the conduct of one of his kitchen cabinet, Railroad and Warehouse Commissioner James Neville of Bloomington. Andrew Russell, member of the Parson Board, secured a divorce from the kitchen cabinet within sixty days after Governor Yates was inaugurated, and Neville is the second important member of the cabinet to be removed. Mr. Neville is a man of high standing, and his removal would be a serious blow to the Governor's administration. He is a man of high standing, and his removal would be a serious blow to the Governor's administration.

APPOINTED AS A COUNTY JUDGE.

Frederick G. White Honored by Governor Yates.

Springfield, Ill., Dec. 12.—Governor Yates has announced the appointment of Frederick G. White of Pontiac to be County Judge of Livingston County, to succeed C. M. Barrickman, resigned.

RED BUD, ILL.—Albert Farring attempted to board a northbound freight train yesterday, but missed his footing and fell, breaking his back. He died in a few minutes.

NEW YORK.—Murphy & Co., brokers, issued a statement yesterday to the effect that E. L. Powell, who left Wilson, N. C., a few days ago, on finding himself unable to pay certain claims, was not manager for Murphy & Co., and that at the time he left Wilson, he was indebted to him in the sum of $100.

proved troublesome, and as the Governor made no secret of his animosity toward the Dawes crowd, Colonel Smith felt that he should openly break with the State administration. Senator Pleasant T. Chapman, also a candidate for Congress in the Twenty-fourth District, a few weeks ago severed his relations with the administration of Governor Yates by resigning his place on the St. Louis World's Fair Board of Commissioners for Illinois, his successor being Walter Warder of Cairo. It is political death to a candidate in that district to be openly allied with the State administration, and had Mr. Chapman retained his place, and Colonel Smith resigned, the latter would have had a distinct advantage in the Republican primaries. These two are the principal candidates for the nomination for Congress, and now that neither has an official connection with the Yates faction they will stand on an even footing.

Leaving the Yates Ship.

While candidates for office are fleeing from the embrace of the State administration as from the plague, Congressman Hopkins enters the arena as a seafarer of the State administration, and really a friend of the Governor's administration, and really a friend of the Governor's administration, and really a friend of the Governor's administration.

Mr. Hopkins is merely the candidate of the "Cousin" Charles and his followers, Mr. Lorimer. I don't believe his name will be mentioned to the Republican caucus. If that can be even further, I shall be very much surprised if his ambition lasts until the next State Convention, and really expect that he will withdraw his name, either officially or through lack of action, soon after the county primaries begin next year. The name of Congressman Hopkins does not stand on a firm foundation. He does not stand on his own reputation and qualifications. That is the only way to stand. He is supported on one side by Governor Yates and on the other by Mr. Lorimer, and the appointees and officeholders of the State administration, who are not for him because they have Memphis and the right man, but because their salaries and expenses depend on answering the nod of the Governor, and the Governor's nod.

Cannot Stand Long.

No candidate for Senator thus sustained can long stand. His crutches can be taken away in a moment and no protest or argument can prevent it.

Mr. Hopkins has no positive personal strength worth any consideration. The report of the Aurora meeting the other day, when he declared his candidacy, as a man of high standing, and his name to even countenance any move of Governor Yates, indicates no warmth or enthusiasm in the only Chicago paper willing to even countenance any move of Governor Yates, and there was a full stop right there. The Will County delegation, assuming that Mr. Hopkins was the right man for Congress and turn the delegation from Kane to a candidate from Will County, and the way of a Will County man for Congress and turn the delegation from Kane to a candidate from Will County, and the way of a Will County man for Congress and turn the delegation from Kane to a candidate from Will County.

CLERK TO PRESIDENT.

Rock Island's New Head a Remarkably Successful Man.

William B. Leeds was a railroad clerk at $9 a month fewer than twenty years ago. Thursday he was elected president of the Rock Island, in which he is a heavy stockholder, and his salary probably will be $50,000 a year.

His career in the financial world has been stellar. For several months a rumor was afloat that the Moore Bros., the "Diamond Match" men, had secured a controlling interest in the Rock Island, and that in the end President Purdy would be succeeded. The end came Thursday.

Mr. Leeds's clerkship was on the Southern Indiana division of the Panhandle Line of the Pennsylvania, and from that he advanced into the office of assistant general agent of the Rock Island, and from there to the position of general agent of the Rock Island, and from there to the position of general agent of the Rock Island.
